K—NG'S INCH_

10 YEAR OLD SINGLE MALT WHISKY

ABV / 46%

Tasting Notes

Nose

The aroma is immediately bright and inviting. The Bourbon influence provides a base of creamy vanilla, honey, and toasted oats. Overlaid on this are the Sherry notes: dried apricots, sultanas, and a hint of orange zest. There is a distinct "freshness" typical of Glasgow-distilled spirits, reminiscent of green apples and freshly cut grass.

Palate

On the tongue, the texture is oily and surprisingly robust for a 10-year-old.

- Sweetness
Initial notes of butterscotch, toffee apple, and heather honey.

- Fruit
Tropical hints of pineapple and ripe pear (from the distillate) emerge, followed by the darker, nuttier influence of the Oloroso cask—think walnuts and dark chocolate.

- Spice
A gentle prickle of cinnamon and ginger develops toward the middle.

Finish

The finish is long and warming. The sweetness of the Bourbon cask lingers with caramelised sugar, but it dries out elegantly with spiced oak, a touch of clove, and a faint hint of espresso coffee on the very tail end.
